

Death of Capt. Jo A. Wilson.

Capt. Jo A. Wilson died yesterday morning at 2 o'clock at his home on Highland avenue after an illness of several months of paralysis.

Capt. Wilson was born January 30, 1840, in Dubuque, Iowa. He came to Lexington in the fall of 1851, and with the exception of his absence during the Civil war, had lived here continuously. Capt. Wilson joined the Confederate army before the battle of Lexington and served throughout the war. He was in the battle of Lexington and was an authority on events transpiring during that memorable conflict. He followed the fortunes of the Confederacy to the bitter end, and at the close returned to Lexington, where he took up the vocation of surveying.

Capt. Wilson was married January 8, 1867, to Miss Maryella Long. Besides his wife he is survived by two brothers and three sisters, who are as follows: Robert A., of Lexington, John W., of San Francisco, Mrs. Frances Baker and Mrs. Lucy

Alexander of St. Louis, and Miss Kate Wilson of Sanduska, Ohio.

Capt. Wilson was a familiar figure on the streets of Lexington. He was generally liked and respected by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. His universal good nature and kindness was contagious. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, and belonged to the Knights of Pythias, Odd Fellows and Lexington Chapter of Confederate Veterans. The Intelligencer joins with the community in expressions of sympathy to the bereaved relatives and friends.

No funeral arrangements have yet been made.

Expression Recital.

There will be a pupils recital at Central College Monday evening, March 24, at eight o'clock. All the friends of the college are invited.

Central College.

The first graduate recital in the School of Expression of Central College will be given by Miss Kathryn Clark Thursday evening, March 27th. Miss Clark will read Stephen Phillips' drama, "The Sin of David." It is the first time an entire drama has been presented by a student. The time of the play is during the Civil War in England between Charles II and the Parliament. The play deals with the great truth that the wages of sin is death, and that a marriage founded on sin cannot bring happiness.

All the friends of the college are cordially invited to attend this recital.

Concert.

Lexington College will furnish young ladies for ushers Friday night at the Grand opera house. Two good looking girls will also greet you at the box-office to sell you a ticket. Come and you will be courteously treated and well entertained.

The bill for putting Prosecuting Attorneys of the state on a salary, introduced by Hon. N. M. Hous, has passed both branches of the legislature. It now awaits the Governor's signature.

J. R. Moorehead went to Kansas City yesterday to spend the day on business.

Mrs. F. M. Hord and two children left yesterday for Osceola, Mo., to visit relatives.

Piano Recital.

Thursday evening of this week Miss Irene Burgess gave the second piano recital in the series for graduation this year at Central College. Murrell Hall stage was beautifully decorated for the occasion with flowers and plants and formed an artistic setting for the appearance of this talented young body. Miss Burgess is both musical and capable and her playing has always been highly enjoyable. She has appeared often, and always prominently on programs at Central. She is a pupil of Mr. Conrad and her playing Thursday evening was characteristic of the style, accuracy and thorough preparation always apparent in his pupils.

In the program yesterday evening Miss Burgess played excellently; she was forced to repeat the Voglein by Grieg.

Her numbers were as follows:

Fantasia, G minor	Bach
Prelude, D flat	Chopin
Moto Perpetuo	Mozart
Romance	St. Saens
Valse Impromptu	Liszt
Le Papillon	Levallee
Berceuse	von Flieitz
Voglein	Grieg
Valse Chromatique	Godard
Rhapsodie Hongroise No. 2	Liszt

Miss Frances Young and Miss Mary Ridings went to Kansas City Wednesday to spend the day.

Death of Samuel Beard.

Samuel Beard died Tuesday morning at 7:45 o'clock at the McIntyre Hotel, where he has been boarding for the past seven years. His death was due to heart trouble. Mr. Beard came here from Reading, Pa. He was 79 years old.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock from the Catholic church.

Business Change.

Fred A. Day has sold the stock of his Book, Music and Art Store to B. R. Young of Kansas City. Mr. Young comes highly recommended as a practical business man, and no doubt will enjoy a liberal patronage from the people of Lexington. The transfer will be made as soon as the inventory is completed, which is now in progress.

Death of a Child.

Warren, the ten months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Gaither, died Friday evening at 12:30 at the home on 23rd and Main streets. His death was due to pneumonia. The funeral services, conducted by Rev. Geo. W. Tally, will be held from the home this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Roy Gray and Ed Simons of Kansas City spent Sunday here with homefolks.
